A. Definitions.

General public: Anyone who is not affiliated with Regent University or CBN.

B. Policy.

The Library’s primary mission is to provide academic support and meet the research needs of Regent University students and faculty. However, the general public is also welcome to use the facilities and access library resources while in the building, as long as the resources are not in use by or reserved for members of the Regent community.

All users are expected to comply with all other policies dealing with the use of Library resources and facilities. Non-compliance may result in the loss of library privileges or banishment from campus.

For more detailed policies on specific types of Library use or the use of specific areas in the Library, see the policies on Study Rooms, Film Shoots in the Library, Use of the Exhibit Area, and Events/Photos in the Library.

C. Contact Information. Head of Access Services (757-352-4152) or circulation@regent.edu
