II. Circulation Policies

Loan Periods & Restrictions

- The majority of the Law collection is non-circulating. Items with a call number, however, may be checked out unless marked "NO-CIRC" or "REFERENCE".

Materials	Limit	Checkout Period	Fines
Book	50	3 weeks	$0.10/day
Audiovisual (non-Menefee)	2	1 week	$0.25/day

Holds

A Patron may place a Hold on an item if:

- another patron has checked the item out, or
- the item is not on the shelf. (It may be lost, or on order.)

Renewals & Recalls for Law Students

- Library materials may be renewed by phone, email (lawcirc@regent.edu), or in person, unless another patron has placed a hold on the item.
- All renewals are subject to recall, meaning they must be returned within 5 days, after which the fine will increase to $.50 per day per item.
- An item on which a fines is owing may still be renewed if there are no holds on the item.

Fines

Overdue ILL items incur a fine of $1.00 per day!

All fines remain on record until paid. Students will not be able to check out additional materials until all fines are paid.

Maximum Fines per Item

- Lost Book- Current price plus $10 processing fee.
- Out of Print- Price when in print, if known; or $20 plus $10 processing fee (No overdue fee is charged if book is paid for).
- Inexpensive Items- (pamphlets, etc.): $2.00 or cost of item, whichever is more, plus $1.00 processing fee.

Tidewater Consortium

Regent University is a member of the Tidewater Consortium for Higher Education, an association of 15 Virginia colleges and universities having reciprocal agreements for sharing their resources, including library materials.

Regent Law students may check books out from all member libraries. To do so, they must present the following:

- A valid Regent ID card; AND
- A consortium card (obtained from the Law Library Access Services desk)

Tidewater Consortium Member Libraries

- Marie Summerlin Hamm, Director (757-352-4233);
- Bill Magee, Assistant Director for Public Services (757-352-4098);
- James E. Wheeler, Head of Electronic Services & Digital Initiatives (757-352-4463).

You may make individual research appointments or schedule individualized training by calling the numbers listed above.

LIBRARY RESOURCES

All the Law Library Resources you need can be accessed from our Law Review Cite Check guide: libguides.regent.edu/lawreview

I. The Online Catalog

The Online Catalog is a computerized database of materials—print, electronic, or multimedia—owned by Regent University. It allows users to quickly ascertain the location and availability of books, periodicals, audiovisuals, and other material held by either the University Library or the Law Library.

Online catalog terminals are scattered throughout the Law Library. The Catalog may also be accessed via the Law Library's "Law Student Central" or through the University Library homepages.

STEP 1: Click the Catalog link in the Research Tools dropdown menu.

The screenshot shows a web browser window with the URL libguides.regent.edu/lawreview. The navigation bar includes links for Law Library, Research Tools, About, My Account, University Library, Law School, and Regent University. The Research Tools dropdown menu is open, and the 'Catalog' link is circled in red. Below the navigation bar is a large banner image showing students in a library setting. The main content area is titled 'Law Review Cite Check' and includes a search bar, a 'Welcome to New Editorial Staff' message, and a list of links: Introduction, Reference, Law Library Contacts, (Seriously Over Simplified) Summary of Cite Check Process, and Bluebook Help.

STEP 2: Select a search option. The basic catalog interface allows users to search by author, title, subject, keyword, and call number. This Handbook offers guidance on effectively using the most popular search methods (Author, Title, Subject, and Keyword).

Search Tips!

- 1. Author Search. The author's last name must be entered first! Format as [last name], [first name]. You can also type in the names of artists and composers, government bodies, or organizations. Tip: Use this if you know the cited author's name but not the exact title of the work cited. Example: In the main text, your article says "John Grisham, in his 2001 novel..." but there's no citation. Search: Grisham, John. Locate: John Grisham, A Painted House (2001).
- 2. Title Search. Title Search DOES NOT work like Google! Title Search is a string search, which means that whatever part of the title you enter must be in exact order. Tip: Use this search method ONLY if you know the exact title. If you are unsure, you should try a Keyword Search or Author Search. After you have entered your search terms and clicked "Search", the Catalog will provide a list of matches. Example: Your article cites A HIGHER LAW: READINGS ON THE INFLUENCE OF CHRISTIAN THOUGHT IN ANGLO-AMERICAN LAW (2008) but does not name the author. Search: higher law.
- 3. Subject Search. The term "subject search" is a bit misleading. This particular type of search is limited to the structure of the Library of Congress (LC) list of subject headings. If you are not familiar with the LC structure, finding the subject you are looking for may be difficult. Tip: You are unlikely to need this feature for law review. If other search methods prove unfruitful, you may wish to consult your Liaison. See page 23.

4. Keyword Search. The "Keyword" search option allows you to search titles, subjects, series, conferences, or organizations by entering any terms or fragments of terms in any order. Example: Your article cites Grisham, Painted House. Search: grisham painted house. Locate: John Grisham, A Painted House (2001).
5. Advanced Search. This option will allow you to perform more precise keyword searches. Tip: Helpful when you have bits and pieces of information about the work(s) you are looking for. Example: Your main text reads, "Scalia authored multiple works on statutory interpretation..." Search: Author : Scalia, Any field : interpretation.

Search Tips

Wildcards Words may be right-hand truncated using an asterisk (*) in place of other characters. The '*' wildcard may also be embedded in a search string. You may use '?' to replace a single character anywhere within a word. Examples : environment* polic*, wom?n

Boolean Operators Use "and" or "or" to specify multiple words in any field, any order. Use "and not" to exclude words. Example : stocks and bonds Example : (alaska or canada) and (adventure and not vacation)

Field limits A field limit causes the system to search only the specified field for the specified word(s).

Use the drop down menu to limit your search by location, you can confine your search to items in a specific collection or location within the Law Library (i.e. Law General Collection, Law Periodicals, etc.). You can also limit a search by material type, language, publisher, or date.

Please review the "Search Tips" box for more information.

Search Tips

Wildcards	Words may be right-hand truncated using an asterisk () in place of other characters. The '' wildcard may also be embedded in a search string. You may use '?' to replace a single character anywhere within a word. Examples : environment* polic*, wom?n
Boolean Operators	Use "and" or "or" to specify multiple words in any field, any order. Use "and not" to exclude words. Example : stocks and bonds Example : (alaska or canada) and (adventure and not vacation)
Field limits	A field limit causes the system to search only the specified field for the specified word(s).
Grouping	Keyword search results are usually grouped by relevance to bring the most likely titles to the top of the list. Each group represents a similar level of relevance and results are sorted within the group by date or title. To get an ungrouped result set, use boolean operators to form a complex query.

STEP 3: To view more detailed information, simply click on the author, title, or subject, as appropriate. A screen similar to the one below will appear.

The database link is located in the top navigation link on each page of the Law Library website, as well as in the Quick Links dropdown menu.

The page includes a variety of ways to locate relevant databases. A detailed description of each database is included. To access any database, simply click on the relevant link.

Note:

This Handbook will introduce a number of resources likely to be of particular interest to those involved in the cite checking process. For more detailed information about electronic resources covering a particular subject area, please contact your Liaison.

1. Westlaw, LexisNexis, and Bloomberg Law

The most power and comprehensive of the Law Library's electronic holdings are, of course, Westlaw, Lexis, and Bloomberg Law. As a benefit of the Law Library's subscriptions to these costly databases, vendor representatives are available to provide specialized training to Law Review and Journal board and staff members. For information on scheduling Westlaw or Lexis training sessions, contact Bill Magee at ext. 4098.

2. HeinOnline

HeinOnline is a FULLY SEARCHABLE image-based collection of legal periodicals and other relevant material featuring high-resolution, uncorrected OCR text. The fact that the images are faithful reproductions of original materials makes this product ideal for cite checking.

HeinOnline can be accessed from several different pages on the Law Library and University Library websites, including Law Student Central: Overview the Law Databases page under "H," Quick Links, and the Law Review Members tab. Once you access HeinOnline, you may be prompted for your Regent log-on information by the proxy server. If you have an access issue, send an email describing the problem to jamewhe@regent.edu.

HeinOnline offers a number of methods of locating a given article.

Browse by Category. You can quickly drill down to the resource you need by locating the appropriate category.

Browse Databases. Use the law journal library to find a specific journal. You will be able to select volume and page number. Use topical databases to find more specialized materials.

Search All Databases. Use the search bar to perform a comprehensive full text search, or enter a specific citation to go directly to your source document.

HeinOnline is most effective when you already know your citation. If you get stuck, Hein offers a variety of resources. You can also contact your law review liaison.

Once a particular journal article is located, a number of navigational options are available at the top of each page. Articles or pages can be printed in either the original (PDF) format or in HTML format.

3. ProQuest Congressional & Legislative Insight

ProQuest Congressional puts the content of thousands and thousands of microfilm at your fingertips.

Regent University's ProQuest Congressional subscription includes the following modules:

FEATURED LAW:

PL111-148, the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act.

Enacted March 23, 2010, PL111-148, the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act was the most comprehensive Federal reform of the U.S. healthcare system since the creation of the Medicare program nearly 35 years before. Viewed as the signature domestic policy achievement of the Obama administration and colloquially referred to as "Obamacare," after President Barack H. Obama, the act was passed following years of effort to address a variety of interrelated issues that were placing increasing strain on the nation's health care system. The result is a complex law with provisions addressing (among other things) precipitously rising healthcare costs, medical coverage for individuals with preexisting medical conditions, and the disproportionate costs of insuring young, healthy individuals in comparison to older individuals with more health problems.

Passage of the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act was the culmination of a dizzyingly complex history of Congressional action aimed at reforming healthcare in the United States. The legislative history for PL111-148 brings this history together, allowing the researcher to track the development of these disparate initiatives over the years. Related bills, Congressional hearings, as well as numerous Congressional reports and debates recorded in the Congressional Record are all aggregated to track the process of enacting this complex legislation.

Introduction to the Legislative Process:

How a Law Is Made

The legislative process begins with an idea as awareness of an issue develops within Congress. Constituents may write letters to their Senators or Representatives. The President may send a message. Committees may request information from CRS, staff, or others, and may hold hearings on the topic in general. Ideas can come from any person or any group, but before they can become law, the ideas must become a bill. Close

OCLC WorldCat is a union catalog that itemizes the collections of 72,000 libraries in 170 countries and territories. WorldCat is a vital part of the interlibrary loan process!

STEP 1: Locate WorldCat. There is a Quick Link to WorldCat on the Law Library homepage and on each database page.

When the database opens, you will see a page similar to the one depicted here.

The screenshot shows the 'FirstSearch' interface for 'WorldCat Advanced Search'. At the top, there are tabs for 'Home', 'Databases', and 'Searching'. Below these are sub-tabs for 'Basic Search', 'Advanced Search' (which is selected), 'Expert Search', and 'Previous Searches'. A 'Go to page' dropdown is also present. On the left, there are links for 'Subjects', 'News', and 'Help'. The main search area includes a 'Search' button and a 'Clear' button. Below these, the 'Search in database:' dropdown is set to 'WorldCat', with a note '(Updated: 2017-02-19)' and the description 'OCLC catalog of books and other materials in libraries worldwide'. The 'Search for:' section has three input fields, each with a 'Keyword' dropdown and a search direction arrow. Between the input fields are 'and' dropdowns. The 'Limit to:' section includes fields for 'Year' (with a format hint '(format: YYYY-YYYY)'), 'Language' (set to 'No Limit' with a 'Show all languages...' link), and 'Number of Libraries' (set to 'All'). At the bottom, the 'Limit type to:' section has a note 'match any of the following' and a grid of checkboxes for various material types: Books, Serial Publications, Articles, Visual Materials, Sound Recordings, Musical Scores, Computer Files, Archival Materials, Maps, Internet Resources, and Continually Updated Resources. A help icon is located at the bottom right of this section.

Click on a title to view more detailed information.

Note the number of libraries that own the item you need.

This can have a significant impact on whether an ILL can be obtained.

The more rare the item, the less willing the owner library usually is to part

If Regent owns the item
you need, go to Step 6.

If not, determine whether the resource is held by a Consortium
Library. If not, PRINT
OR SAVE THIS PAGE!
You will need this information to obtain an ILL.

STEP 5: The
Libraries
That Own
Item page will allow you to quickly find out if the item you need is owned by Regent University.

Note that the Virginia libraries (if any) that hold the item are listed first.

Libraries within the same region (D.C., Maryland, N.C., etc.) are listed next.

STEP 6: This page provides a link directly to Regent's Online Catalog. If Regent owns the item you need, simply note the location and call number!

IF NOT: Scroll to the end of the list of owner libraries and you will see the Record for Item. This is essentially a duplicate of the Detailed Record page.

Print or save this page. You will need the information to complete an interlibrary loan request.

INTERLIBRARY LOAN

WHAT IF REGENT DOESN'T OWN THE ITEM YOUR TEAM NEEDS?

Interlibrary Loan (ILL) is a service whereby materials NOT available in the Regent University library system (or by a local Tidewater Consortium member) may be obtained. The conditions of this service are set by the Interlibrary Loan Code of the American Library Association and by regulations of Regent University Library as well as those of individual lending libraries, and are subject to Title 17 of the United States Code.

ILL requests must be submitted electronically via ILLiad.

Please select one person on your team to submit ALL necessary ILL requests.

IMPORTANT ILL EXCLUSIONS

The Law Library will not process ILL requests for the following types of materials if they are available online in any format, unless the online format lacks necessary graphical materials:

- Newspapers or magazines;
- Treatises, books, or other secondary sources -- including academic journals -- that are available both in print and online from the publisher. For example, a print treatise published by Lexis (eg. "Matthew-Bender" imprint) that also is available on Lexis;
- Primary source materials that are available on the website of the issuing entity or publisher. For example, a state code published by in print by West that is available on Westlaw, or a federal agency decision that is on the agency's website.

You will be directed to the ILLiad logon screen.

IMPORTANT: In the Note field, please state that request is for Law Review. ALWAYS include the OCLC, ISSN, ISBN number in your request. This will reduce the amount of time required for processing the request. If you are requesting a book, please note the specific edition you need.

***If you need an article, please note the TITLE of article.*****

ILL Terms and Conditions

**Note to the Board: The Law Review Liaison should be notified at least two weeks in advance of pending cite check projects that will involve extensive use of ILL.

Items can only be requested once within a year, and are generally not renewable.

Turn around time:

- Turn around time may be as little as three days or as much as two weeks or longer. It varies greatly depending on the type and availability of the material being requested, the delivery system used and the processing efficiency of the lending library.
- Because of the COVID-19 pandemic, any item physically transferred from another library must be quarantined for 72 hours before it can be given to the requesting student. Similarly, the lending library will also have to quarantine the item upon return. Thus, turn around times and availability of resources via ILL may be significantly affected; please plan accordingly and avoid ILL requests that are not strictly necessary.

Book/Document pick up:

- The Cite Check Team member will be notified by the phone or email when the requested materials arrive.
- Any Team Member who picks up or returns an ILL will be required to sign an ILL Log Sheet.

Overdue Fines:

- There is a fine of $1.00 per day for overdue items.
- Patrons will be charged for any lost or damaged materials.

SUMMARY

If you need a book:

- Check the Online Catalog to see if Regent owns what you need.

If not:

- Check OCLC WorldCat to find out if the item is owned by a local member of the Tidewater Consortium. Remember that items held by local libraries are not eligible for ILL.
- If the book is not available locally, use the OCLC Libraries that Own Item page to complete an ILL request via ILLiad. Remember that each team should designate ONE person to submit ILLs.

If you need an article:

- Check the Online Catalog to see if Regent owns what you need.

If not:

- Check HeinOnline and other databases to see if the periodical you need is included. If it is not:
- Check OCLC WorldCat to find out if the item is available locally.

If it is not, print or save the Libraries that Own Item page. Have the designated member of the cite-check team submit a complete ILL request via ILLiad. PLEASE BE SURE TO INCLUDE BOTH THE TITLE OF THE ARTICLE AND THE TITLE OF THE JOURNAL!

CONCLUSION

As you undertake the time-consuming and sometimes tedious task of cite-checking an article, please know that the faculty and staff of the Regent University Law Library are committed to supporting you in any way possible.

If you have questions about Law Library policy or would like to schedule an individual research appointment or training session, please contact your Law Review /Journal Liaison.
